Long Gully Station

Otago Fish & Game Council Resource Report

General:

Long Gully is a small property located between the Clutha and Lindis Rivers. Sandy Point and Deep Creek pastoral lease properties form the northern and eastern boundaries respectively. The majority of the creeks are ephemeral by nature, while others cease to flow lower down due to water extraction for irrigation purposes. The gullies that contain permanent water are generally small.

Sports Fishery Values:

No sports fish were found during the survey.

Game Bird Values:

The property contains some upland game-bird (California quail) habitat, although none were seen to during the survey. Anecdotal reports indicate that upland game inhabit the property. We have no information on recreational hunting on this property but access is at the discretion of the leaseholder.

Recommendations:

There are no values of importance to the Otago Fish & Game Council on this property.
